David Strover: This is a difficult report to write and because of the type of game that was played today but I must first report that Patriots Arms approached the match with the right attitude from beginning to end. They never moaned or resorted to fouling and tried to attack and cause DOB problems throughout. In fact the opening goal came after six minutes from the visitors when a header from an early corner was powerfully headed home, although it has to be said the scorer was not put under too much pressure. The lead lasted only a minute because on the next attack David Devine slotted home the equaliser from a Phil Corcoran through ball and from that point on it was sadly downhill for the Division Seven team. Highlights of the game were two magnificent saves by the Patriots Arms goalie and a thirty yard pile driver from Graeme Little. Turning around 6-1 up at halftime gave stand in manager James Domm the chance to give all the substitutes a run out and first two to be brought on, Gary Matthews and James Sutton, added to the goal tally within minutes of setting foot on the pitch. In the end the Patriots shipped eleven goals and slipped out of the Chairman's Trophy but they played the full ninety minutes and tried their hardest and can rest assured they really could not have done much more. For 'The Stag' it was as good workout after the long lay-off and with several players contributing goals things are looking up for the remainder of the season. In the quarter-finals Dorcan Old Boys have to play AC Swindon from Division Six at Mannington Recreation Ground in the first week of March. Without being too over confident surely this must be a great chance for the club to reach it's second cup semi-final in the last three years!
